CONTEMPORARY GLASS WALL COVERINGS

Showrooms

Our products

Glass panels have joined more traditional wall coverings to become a classic choice for kitchen and bathroom splashbacks, and most showrooms now offer glass wall products to their customers as a recommended option. We supply showrooms up and down the country, with many citing our extensive, customisable selection, excellent customer service, along with the very high quality of our products as their reasons for choosing to work with Opticolour.

We have a large range of colours, effects and finishes on offer and also work with individual showrooms and their customers to create bespoke designs. We are always adding new products to our lines to ensure we cater for the widest possible variety of bathroom and kitchen design ideas, and have recently launched printed tile patterns, rose gold mirror and a seasonal collection of summer shades. Our standard range includes an extensive choice of plain colours, stone-effect finishes, digitally printed panels, mirrored glass, and sparkle and metallic options.

All but a handful of our products are toughened as standard, so they are heat and impact resistant - making them very safe and durable.

Our showroom service

We can provide samples or install panels in your showroom to demonstrate the finished result, as well as the great quality of our product and installation service. We also have glossy catalogues available and an extensive gallery of photographs on our website to give customers an idea of the looks that can be achieved and the kitchen design ideas that are possible.

Our reps will visit on a regular basis to keep you updated with our latest products and projects, and to answer any questions you may have.

How it works

Our glass panels can be ordered for supply only, but we also offer a survey and installation service. Our expert fitters will measure the wall space at a time convenient for your client (usually within 48 hours of booking), and will return within 7 to 10 working days to install the panels. Measurements are taken at a late stage of the kitchen or bathroom installation process, as we need to know the position of fixtures and fittings so that cut-outs, holes and notches can be made. However, our very quick turnaround times and our near perfect record for successful first-time installation means we won't hold up completion of the job.

We have extensive experience of working with other trades and we know things don't always go according to plan - we are flexible, adaptable and cooperative, and always try to accommodate last-minute changes to the schedule.

Complaints are extremely rare! Glass is incredibly easy to clean and maintain and customers are usually delighted with the final result. However, we do offer 10-year product and installation guarantees for total peace of mind.
